

The Daily Courant.

Monday, March 8. 1703.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated March 3.

Hamburg, February 27.

They write from Thorn, That a Party of Saxons which was sent out from thence, had fallen upon 300 Swedes near Gostinin, cut them all off, and taken a Booty of 18000 Guilders. That the Deputies of the City of Dantzick were refus'd Audience of the King of Poland, and that the Magistrates of that Place have therefore redoubled their Care to put it into a good condition of Defence.

Mittau, Feb. 13. This Afternoon Lieutenant Collonel Bruckner return'd with a Party of 500 Swedish Horse and Dragoons, having 2 days ago attack'd the Lithuanians that were quarter'd in Janitski, kill'd 200, and taken 200 Horses, 2 pair of Kettle-Drums, and several Standards. Another Party of 800 Swedes is march'd out of this place, under Collonel Leeuwenhaulet.

Warsaw, Feb. 16. The King of Sweden is now at Jakowoci 2 Miles from Lublin; his Majesty has yielded that the Lubliners who were tax'd at 50000 Rixdollars Contribution, shall compound for 20000. General Steinbock has put a great quantity of Goods of much Value, that were collected as Contributions in the Polish Russia, into the Castle of Zokal. The King of Sweden has made the Prince of Saxe-Gotha General of his Infantry; in the room of the Duke of Holstein who was kill'd last Summer.

From the Harlem Courant, dated March 3.

Thorn, Feb. 13. The King's Troops are posted in and near this City. The Saxon General Venedigen, with some Troops of Lithuanians, has possess'd himself of Tickoczin a Fortrefs belonging to the Sapiehas, in which is found a fine Train of Artillery.

Warsaw, Feb. 13. Of the Senators that were invited to hold a Senatus Consilium here by the Cardinal Primate, but few are arriv'd; and those that are absent, have signified that they cannot think themselves free in their Votes, nor secure in their Persons, where there is a Swedish Garrison. The Upper Field-Marshal bound himself and the Crown's Army in a Confederacy on the 25th of last Month; and afterwards issued out his Universalis to all the Waywodships; inviting them to send their Deputies to render themselves ad latus Regium, i. e. to attend his Majesty, on the 16th of March. The Gentlemen of the Waywodship of Syradia, and some thousands more of the Nobility, are mounted on Horseback under the Command of a famous Leader nam'd Coir, to assist the King; whereupon the Swedes that were advanc'd near Thorn are retiring back again, but threaten to ruin the Country with Fire and Sword, in case any Resolutions against them be taken in the approaching Senatus Consilium. The Imperial Minister uses all his Endeavours to hasten the Peace; and the Poles begin to talk, that if it be not concluded by the 16th of March, all misunderstandings between them and the Saxons must be laid aside.

Dantzick, Feb. 24. They write from Marienburg, where the Court is at present, That the Heer Potiecy being on his march to Warsaw with 20 Troops, met with and routed a Party of some hundreds of Swedes. On the 20th several Carriages were sent from hence to fetch the Artillery from Memel. The English Envoy went from hence to Warsaw on the 19th, to forward the Peace between the Kings of Sweden and Poland.

From the Amsterdam Courant dated, March 8.

Marienburg, Feb. 23. We have Advice here that Tykocfin is taken and garrison'd by the Saxons. The Secretary of the Imperial Envoy is arriv'd here, from whom we learn that the King of Sweden is well inclin'd at present to a Peace. We have a Report that the Swedish General Steinbock is taken Prisoner; as also that the rebellious Cossacks are suppress'd, and their General Samur hanged.

Marienburg, Feb. 26. This Day the Deputy from the Crown's Army had Audience of the King, in which they assure him, that they would stand by, and maintain the Catholick Faith, the King, and the Republick.

Samosc. Feb. 9. To Day came Advice from Zokal, That the Swedes have possess'd themselves, by Surprise of the Bernardine's Cloyster there, into which the Waywodship of Wolhinia had put all their Treasure, in which they found a Booty to the Value of 12 Millions of Guilders. This City is block'd up by the Swedes.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated March 10.

Coningsberg, Feb. 27. Yesterday came advice, That the City of Elbing has receiv'd a Garrison of Prussians; of which we wait a Confirmation.

Dantzick, Feb. 28. Yesterday we receiv'd a Confirmation of the taking of General Steinbock, who after he had plunder'd the Cloyster of Sohol, in which he found 3 Millions of Guilders, was made Prisoner by the Crown's Referendarius and General Brandt, who took with him some Chests of Gold and Silver. The Swedish General Horn, was kill'd before the Castle of Samos by a Shot from that place.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated March 8.

Thorn, Feb. 22. The Polish Army has taken the following Oath,

' I N. Swear in the presence of God, in the midst of the Troubles of our Country, seeing no other way of defending the Catholick Faith, the Churches and Service of God, and rescuing the Republick which is oppress'd on all sides by an Inundation of Enemies, That I will defend with the Hazard of my Life and Fortune, (without being corrupted by Gifts or Promises,) not only the Catholick Faith in the first place, The Churches of God, the Liberties of Poland and the Publick Wealth, the most Serene King Augustus now reigning, the most Illustrious Generals of the Armies and all my Brethren; but, likewise that I will oppose with all my might, and manner of means, all things that may be prejudicial to the Publick Good; and that I will not engage in

in any Treaty, Capitulation, or other Confederacy, against the Publick Welfare; or that may tend or aim at the Dethroning of the King, by which not only our Liberties, but our Country would be wholly ruin'd. I further promise, That if I happen to be inform'd of any Factions being set on foot, or any Treaty between any Persons whatsoever against the Publick Good, that I will discover it, and will treat the Persons I know to be concern'd in such a Confederacy as Enemies; I will pay Obedience to the Generals of the Army, holding my self oblig'd with them and my Fellow-Soldiers to be all of one mind. And whereas the most illustrious Generals of our Army have issued out Univerſalia to all Military Officers, as well as private Soldiers, to command each of them to render themselves at their Troop or Company within the space of six Weeks, We declare, That whoever shall fail to appear personally within that time, excepting those that are already actually employ'd, we will cut them off from our Community. These things we swear to observe jointly, as well us and our Brethren, as our Generals, and that we will continue in this Union, till the Republick is re-establish'd in Peace, and till we are paid our Arrears, which we have deserv'd by our Services and at the Price of our Blood. All which I oblige my self to stand by and maintain, on my Faith, Honour and Conscience. So help me God.
